Introduction

Most of you currently reading this PDF are already well acquainted with our approach on all matters Occult and Magick - the approach of no bullshit, no misinformation and no misconceptions. We may seem almost fanatical with our stance on such matters - however it is for a good reason. During all the years we have studied and mastered various systems and paths, we were absolutely overwhelmed by the sheer amount of rubbish presented as "truth" in the world of the Occult Arts - and people who know of no better takes all this bullshit in as truth. This continues to this very day - and will likely never stop happening.

Every single thing we write is to open the seeker's eyes to what is the truth on various matters concerning Magick and the Occult - and to attempt to abolish misconceptions and misinformation. Once you realise and understand the nature of the thing, you can control it - but for as long as you do not understand even the slightest about the thing, you will never be able to control it. Remember this.

The purpose of this particular PDF is to state once and for all the nature of spirit communication and manifestation. We will not tell you how to ensure perfect communication and manifestation, as this is a matter for another time - instead we will abolish the most common misconceptions concerning the subject matter.

Let us be very honest - the subject of spirit communication and manifestation is riddled with the very things we dispise: misinformation, misconceptions as well as plain and simple bullshit; much more so than some other topics. Ironically enough - the questions concerning magick that are asked the most, are all related to spirit communication and manifestation. Above we stated the relationship between understanding the truth of something in order to apply it successfully - and this is the simple reason why so many people struggle in this topic - because they do not fully understand the basic principles thereof, and until they do - they are doomed to continuous failure.

As with all our other works, this book is written from our many years of practical experience, research and plain logic. The contents of this, as well as all our other books will assuredly help you along your own path - when taken in and applied of course.

Chapter One

Spirit Communication

In your day to day life, communication is a key factor in living. Phone calls, texts, emails, conversations, discussions, you name it and communication is involved. If you break human communication down to the basic physical action (minus technology) - you get speech. Now, speech - irrelevant of language - is a universal factor of humanity, from the first day that the first humans started using sounds to carry messages from one to the other. Your brain is programmed by it's physical nature to understand communication to be quite a physical act - you make use of your vocal cords, tongue, mouth, lips and breath to make a sound or a series of sounds that conveys your intent - which the other person or persons in turn hears.

We are all so used to this very physical form of communication - so when we think of communicating with something of a non-physical (spiritual) form, naturally we expect it to be exactly the same as communication with a physical form...when in fact it differs like day and night.

Let's go back to physical communication. Now, your body doesn't just form words by itself - no! What you intend to say, comes from your mind, and since the mind cannot operate without the spirit/soul, ultimately whatever you intend to say comes from the will of the spirit. This means that your thoughts and what you intend to say are not composed of words - but rather emotions, images, colors etc that the brain (mind) translates into sounds/words. Basically, communication is not exactly a physical thing - but a spiritual/unseen thing...and to us living humans, it is conveyed by a physical act.

The fact that communication is a spiritual thing by it's basic principles, ties into telepathy, communication with animals etc etc - however this is not what this chapter is about...it is about communicating with spirits.

Now, let's think about spirits. What is the main thing that sets them apart from us? They are not physical. We repeat this: they are NOT PHYSICAL. Irrelevant of what nature they hold, they are not physical. Think about this lucidly for a moment - that means that the laws of the physical do not apply to them. This also means that they have no "body" as the living does - as proven by the fact that they can change their shape and appearance as they please - they have no "set" form as we (the living) do. Now think a bit further...

Since they have no physical body - they in turn have no organs, flesh or blood...and have no lungs, have no need to breathe, have no lips, have no mouth, have no vocal cords...and have no physical voice.

Now, just because something lacks a "voice" it definately doesn't mean that you cannot communicate with it, and that it has nothing to convey or doesn't have the capabilities to communicate - quite the contrary, as thoughts and communication does not stem from the physical, but the spiritual as shown above. This simply means that communication with a non-physical (and thus spiritual) creature will differ from communication with something that is physical.

What we have stated above is something that most aspiring mages and even a lot of people who already call themselves alleged "mages" forget about or do not consider at all...and this is where the misconceptions and misinformation arise from.

When you are attempting to communicate with something that is spiritual, you will NOT "hear" them with your physical ears. You will "hear" them with your spiritual senses. The best way to describe this process is as follows:

- You are preparing to communicate with a spirit.
- You enter into a gnostic or meditative state etc (which people forget about as well) in order to become more spiritually aware.
- You speak the spirit's name as well as what you wish to say - irrelevant if you are saying it "out loud" or mentally.
- As soon as you speak, your words (which now has no reason for remaining mere words), converts back to it's original state of intent, images, emotions, colors etc.
- The message reaches the spirit, because you are subconsciously projecting it to the spirit in question.
- The spirit (if it chooses to communicate with you) establishes a link with you in order to return the communication.
- Via this link, the spirit projects the response which in it's base form appears as intent, colors, images, emotions etc.
- When you receive the communication, either your mind converts the spiritual message into "words" and "sounds" for your better understanding - or it remains in form of intent, colors, images, emotions etc.

Hopefully this gives you perspective on how communication with a spirit actually works. Spirits have no language - how do you think you can communicate in English to a spirit that died before English was even invented? Spirits use no words, as they have no need for them - they communicate as our communication starts as: intent, images, emotions and colors.

Now you are likely wondering about other forms of spirit communication, such as the pendulum, dowsing rods, witch board (ouija board) etc and how it ties in to this. It's actually quite simple:

With the pendulum, the spirit links up to you as usual and uses the energy of your physical body in order to move the pendulum accordingly. Basically, it projects the message through to you, which you (subconsciously) interpret as either a "yes", "no" etc - which in turn makes the pendulum follow suit. The dowsing rods work in the same manner...as well as the Witch Board. Another thing to consider is automatic writing - which in fact is a form of partial possession. In this instance, by linking up to you, the spirit gains knowledge of your vocabulary as well.

You may ask: "can a spirit communicate to me audibly?" and the answer is yes - however only by means of possession - where the spirit possesses someone and in turn gains the physical organs etc needed to physically "speak" which you can audibly hear with your physical ears.

So, in conclusion - communicating with anything spiritual is down to:

- Projection and how receptive you are to receiving projected messages.
- Your spiritual senses.
- How spiritually open and aware you are.

It sounds simple, doesn't it? Everyone has the capacity and capability to communicate with the spiritual, however either due to misconceptions or a problem concerning one of the above three factors - either you will struggle a lot or even fail continuously. Thus you must find a way to remedy the problem - because the barrier lies with you and none other.

Chapter Two

Spirit Manifestation

This chapter will be shorter than the previous, as it already ties into what we have already written here. Everyone in magick continuously asks if one can "summon a spirit to physical manifestation" - and this irks us a great deal. Because a spirit has no physical form, the only way it can manifest physically is via possession - and even then it will not be able to change the host body as it pleases. If a spirit possesses your mother as an example, you will be looking at the body of your mother, however with another spirit dominating the spirit of your mother. Beyond this - and read carefully now - IT IS IMPOSSIBLE FOR A SPIRIT TO MANIFEST PHYSICALLY.

A spirit can manifest visibly - however "visibly" is very different than "physically". The majority of the times when they manifest visibly, you perceive them with your spiritual "eyes" (spiritual senses) rather than your physical eyes - meaning that if anyone else is in the room with you, there is a very big chance that they will not even know of the presence unless they are spiritually open enough. You can perceive them with your physical eyes - yes...however spirits rarely do this due to this simple fact: effort. It takes a lot of energy and effort on their behalf to make their spiritual forms dense enough in order to be seen with physical eyes - energy and effort that they would much rather use for some other purpose...as let's all be honest - what could they possibly gain personally if they manifest themselves visibly to you?

Whenever someone promises to teach you "how to make a spirit manifest physically" - they are simply bullshitting you, likely to make a quick buck by playing off of misinformation and misconceptions. Do not fall into the same trap as so many others and use your lucid reasoning at all times. Do not let them prey on your ignorance, as this is how these parasites make a living. Chances are that not even they are aware as to why spirits cannot manifest physically and they are mere dabblers at best.

Back to the topic...in short:

- There is a big difference between physical manifestation and visible manifestation.
- Spirits do not manifest physically unless possession takes place.
- Spirits are usually perceived through spiritual senses.
- Spirits can manifest visibly, but they simply do not care for it.

Again, your success in "seeing" spirits are due to:

- Your spiritual senses.
- How spiritually open and aware you are.

As in the previous chapter - your success or failure depends on the above two factors.

Chapter Three

The Manipulation of Physical Objects

We'll say this upfront: yes, spirits can manipulate physical objects even though they do not have a physical form. So, the question should not be if they can, but rather how do they do so? Brace yourself for one of the biggest secrets of how spirits work that applies to much more than just this subject matter...

Energy manipulation.

Everything - irrelevant of what it is - has a spiritual double...even if it is an inanimate object. The spirit can easily interact with the spiritual double of the physical item. The spiritual double and the physical item is never separate from each other - they can be seen as "one". Where the spiritual double goes, the physical form goes - and where the physical form goes, the spiritual double goes - even though etheric imprints may be left, the spiritual double is always with the physical form.

So, as an example, in order to pick up a glass and throw it - the spirit interacts with the spiritual double of the glass which in turn affects the physical glass, which causes you to physically perceive the glass being picked up and thrown. They do not literally pick up the physical glass - no. The glass simply moves because the spirit is manipulating the spiritual double of the glass.

Remember this - and also remember that this applies to much more than just moving random objects.

Many practitioners have never seen a spirit move an item before their very eyes...and there is a simple reason for this that will sound familiar to you: effort. You must understand that spirits as a whole do not care to do things like this for your shock and amusement, frankly, many of them will find it offensive and annoying if you demand that they "move the candle" or "touch my arm".

In conclusion:

- Spirits manipulate the spiritual double of an item to cause physical change.

In Conclusion

There are many factors that we did not mention in this small PDF, however what we have mentioned must not be overlooked at all. Even though everyone is capable of perceiving spirits and communicating with spirits - it takes a lot of effort and patience in order to do so...and many people do not have enough dedication or patience to develop their own spiritual senses and abilities. To practice any form of magick, you must be extremely dedicated and patient - otherwise you will get nowhere and simply waste your time. These are hard words, however they must be heeded.

Many people will claim to literally hear spirits with their physical ears, or to be able to manifest spirits physically - however these people are the biggest liars and bullshitters you can come across! However, it is of course up to you if you are going to pay attention to them or not.

If you are still new in the world of the Occult or if you struggle too much to develop your spiritual senses, we suggest trial and error, researching your possibilities in extent and degree - or perhaps getting a teacher...we do offer apprenticeship courses after all! (Yes, we are shamelessly advertising our business! If you are interested, feel free to contact us.)

Nonetheless, we hope this PDF has given you a bit more insight into matters of the spiritual.
